1. EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S REPORT: 2014 December

The year is wrapping up. The Annual LGBTQI Psychotherapy Conference on November 16 was a smashing success. Almost 100 people attended, which was a new high. Also, we had eight sponsor tables—again, a new high for us. Rob Weiss gave a rousing and informative speech. I heard only positive comments about the workshops from the people as they left. There are so many people to thank—Antioch University Los Angeles and the LGBT Specialization; Rob Weiss and his group of companies—Elements Behavioral Health and Sexual Recovery Institute; Omar Minwalla and his company the Institute for Sexual Health sponsored booths and presentations by PFLAG and Trevor Project; for the first time CAMFT had a booth; and at the last minute Visions Adolescent Treatment Centers and Vista Del Mar participated. Twin Town Treatment Centers has been a decade-long supporter of LAGPA. They continue to provide their office in West Hollywood for board meetings and educational workshops.

Talking about educational workshops, we are planning a workshop on PrEP and PEP. We are hearing more and more about these approaches to reducing the spread of HIV yet there is some controversy if the medical approach is leading to more unsafe sexual practices. The details are being worked out and you will hear about them soon. Likewise, Dr. Martin McCombs, who was not able to give his workshop on gay male survivor syndrome at the Conference, will be giving it sometime in the spring. Do you have other ideas? Remember, LAGPA is your organization. If there are topics you would like us to address in the educational forums, just let us know.

Elections are upon us. Each December elections are held for the LAGPA board. Everyone who is a current member is encouraged to vote or, better yet, run for the board. Ballots will be sent out soon.

The Winter Social is in just a few days. The flyer is included. This year Mark and Robert are opening their home to us in Van Nuys. It is great to spread our events in different locations of Los Angeles so as to reach out to some of our far-flung members. We are currently talking with members in Palm Springs who want to host a social gathering to mostly introduce therapists in the area to our activities. We are always open to your suggestion. In just a few months we will begin planning for 2015 Annual Conference. It will be our 20th and an important marker of our progress. Come and join with the planning and fun.

For more information please contact our Executive Director, Chuck Stewart. The purpose of a newsletter is to provide specialized information to a targeted audience. Newsletters provide a great way to market your product or service, to create credibility, and to build your organization's identity among peers, members, employees, or vendors.

First, determine the audience of the newsletter. This could be anyone who might benefit from the information it contains, for example, employees, or people interested in purchasing a product or requesting your service. You can compile a mailing list from business reply cards, customer information sheets, and business cards collected at trade shows, or membership lists.

Next, establish how much time and money you can spend on your newsletter. These factors will help determine how frequently you publish your newsletter and its length. You should publish your newsletter at least quarterly so that it's considered a consistent source of information. Your customers or employees will look forward to its arrival. ▼
