Seeking Integrity is a cutting-edge, expert-guided, addiction treatment organization dedicated to helping men eliminate troubling patterns of addictive sexual behavior and paired sex and drug addiction (chemsex). Seeking Integrity's intensive therapeutic healing environments are designed to break through the intense layers of shame and pervasive denial that nearly always surround adult problems involving sex and drugs. Our work is designed for men who, often due to early life trauma, neglect, and/or profound adult losses tend to self soothe and emotionally escape via sexual fantasy and sexual acting out with or without co-occurring drug abuse. Our program's strong focus on personal growth via evolving strong peer bonds and personal accountability is designed to lead each man toward his own personal and relationship integrity with the help of licensed experts. At Seeking Integrity, we invite our clients to move beyond addictive self-obsession, addictive behaviors, and narcissism to ultimately understand and embrace the responsibilities that come with adult relationships and family life. If you ask yourself, "Why can't I stop cheating? Why can't I stay clean and sober? Why can't I keep promises, especially those made to myself? Why do I keep hurting the very people I love?" we can help. Those working within our programs are trained to respond to every man and his life-partner/family regarding the answers to these questions and so much more.

presence Dr. Rob Weiss, who first created The Sexual Recovery Institute in Los Angeles in 1995, one of the first intensive outpatient treatment programs in the US for sex and pornography addiction. Since then, Dr. Rob has penned nearly a dozen books, including Sex Addiction 101, Cruise Control: Understanding Sexual Addiction in Gay Men, Out of the Doghouse, and most recently the family healing focused Prodependence: Moving Beyond Codependency. Over the past 25 years, Dr. Rob has continued to grow and expand his services. Dr. Rob and international treatment expert Dr. David Fawcett have joined together at Seeking Integrity to evolve comprehensive, truly individualized treatment for sex addiction and paired sex and drug addiction. Dr. Fawcett's book, Lust, Men, and Meth, is the definitive work in the treatment of paired drug and sex addiction (chemsex). Thus, the Seeking Integrity team is led and facilitated by global experts in the fields of behavioral and drug addictions, together having over 60 years of clinical expertise. They along with the Seeking Integrity team, work daily to create truly unique and effective treatment experiences for sex and drug addictions.
