Hi, I'm Cory. I am a licensed psychotherapist with over ten years of experience working with individuals, couples, and families in Los Angeles and online throughout California, New York and Texas. If you're seeking mental health support then you've come to the right place. I have compassion and a deep appreciation for the mental health and relationship challenges we as humans all experience. Whether you are suffering from anxiety, depression, or past traumas, or perhaps not fulfilled with your intimate relationships, or relationships with family or friends, or maybe you are just wanting relief from life's stressors, therapy can help. Therapy can help you explore your purpose and achieve your dreams. Together, we will tackle your challenges through supportive and empowering psychological guidance, and we can develop the tools you need to create positive change and remove the blocks in your life and in your relationships. My approach to therapy is built on an affirmative and judgment-free foundation, and I help individuals, couples, and families overcome a wide range of symptoms and mental health conditions to set themselves on the path toward mental health and wellness. My style is relational, empowering, and affirmative. Together we will co-create a successful therapeutic relationship that works for you.
